BIG RACE DELAYED BY WHITECAPS.

Harvard Wins the "Fours" Easily, Then Wind Rises and Postpones the Varsity.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 26.—The Regatta Committee announces that the Varsity Race has been postponed until 6 o'clock.

NEW LONDON, June 26.—5 P. M.—The wind is still blowing briskly from the northwest and the water seems too rough to start the Varsity race within the next half hour. The referee's boat is at the drawbridge.

The committee boat has gone down the river to that point.

From present appearances no attempt will be made to start the Varsity until 5.30 or 6 o'clock.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 26.—The Regatta Committee announced the freshman race postponed on account of heavy wind. It will be rowed after the Varsity night.

If the Varsity race cannot be rowed at 4 o'clock an attempt will be made to start it at 6 or 6.30 o'clock if the weather conditions are favorable. In that event the freshman race will be rowed at 10.30 to-morrow morning. If the Varsity race goes over until to-morrow it will be at 4 P. M.

President Roosevelt will not remain in New London in case the races are postponed. He will leave this city at 10 o'clock to-night and proceed direct to Washington.

NEW LONDON, June 26.—Harvard's Varsity four beat the Yale crew in the first of the series of aquatic struggles on the Thames to-day.

The race was a virtual walkover for the winners and the result was a great surprise, as Yale was the favorite.

Harvard appeared to take the lead immediately by half a length, rowing a swift stroke and splashing considerably at first. Yale was also rowing speedily, probably 36.

Harvard Going Away.

Half way to half-mile flag Harvard had increased her lead until it became a length. Both crews were rowing collectively, although Yale splashed on recovery.

At half-mile flag Harvard led the blue by two good lengths, although Yale seemed pulling up a bit just as they passed the half-mile flag. Both crews had reduced their stroke. Harvard rowing 32, while Yale, still splashing, was rowing about 34.

Approaching the mile Harvard still maintained her lead, but did not fight for every inch of it. At the mile flag Harvard had gained, however, and was fully three lengths ahead of Yale. Time for three lengths, 11 min. 11 sec.

Approaching the mile and a half the crews ran into very rough water, as the wind had increased considerably. At mile and a half Harvard was leading by about three lengths. Yale splashing considerably.

Quarter mile from finish Harvard led by three lengths. Yale quickened stroke to 38.

One-eighth mile from finish Harvard was three and a half lengths ahead, rowing easily.

Harvard passed the finish line winner by three lengths. Time—11 min. 11-1/2 sec.

Yale's time, 11 min. 25-1/2 sec.

The distance was two miles.

Just after the four-oared race started the Harvard Freshman shell was taken in tow by the launch John Harvard, which started down to the Navy Yard.

PANAMA CANAL BILL IS FINALLY PASSED.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The Panama Canal bill now only awaits the signature of the President to become a law.

By a vote of 253 to 8 the conference report was this afternoon adopted by the House. Later it was adopted by the Senate. The measure now goes to the President for his signature.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, June 26.—In its original form the race was very attractive this afternoon, but the crowd on arriving at the track found the blue pencil had been used unsparsingly and the result was greatly reduced.

The opening event suffered particularly. Gunfire, who was regarded as a sure winner, was withdrawn with half a dozen others. The stake fixtures were the Pansy, for two-year-olds, on the turf, and the Spindrift, for three-year-olds. Both promised to be interesting affairs. There was a handicap also which promised well.

The attendance was large. The weather was charming and the track lightning fast.

BALL GROUND, PHILADELPHIA.

June 26.—The Giants have not got one little bit of luck. During the morning it looked as though one day was going to pass without their being accorded a defeat. All night it rained in torrents and the early hours of the day made it appear as though more wet from the heavens would cause the game with the Quakers to be put off. But the sun came out and shone as brilliantly as it ever did. And the Giants had to play. Poor Giants!

Manager-Captain Smith had nothing new to spring on the baseball public to-day. His club had not released any more Giants nor were Lajole or Flick signed to be Giants up to 4 o'clock.

First Inning.

Four wide ones gave Brodie a walk. Dunn's neat sacrifice bunt was picked up by Douglas. Jones' knock to Hallman resulted in the finish of Brodie between second and third, but Jimmy got as far as second on the play. Lauders' finish was attended to by Childs. No runs.

Lauder resumed his bad playing of yesterday at the first opportunity. He fumbled Thomas' easy grounder first and then threw as wildly as a child. The Quaker reached third before the ball was returned. Barry got a walk and did Hulsch. The bases were filled. One run got in, but the Giants worked a neat triple play. Jackisch's hit to Bean forced Hulsch at first. O'Hagan got the ball to the plate in time to catch Barry trying to score. One run.

Second Inning.

Yeager's roller to Hulsch was his undoing at first. Smith's drive to centre earned him a base. O'Hagan lined the ball into Douglas's hands and the Quaker, stopping on first base, executed a double play with Smith as the victim. No runs.

Lauder did manage to throw Douglas out, but at that he nearly missed. Browne's bunt was a safe one, but Evans in trying to retire him threw wildly and the Quaker got to second. O'Hagan, after much difficulty, picked up Hallman's roller and gave it to Evans, who covered the base. Childs got a pass to first. Fraser's safety sent Browne home, but the Phillies' pitcher was caught trying to stretch it into a double. One run.

Third Inning.

Bean was helped into retirement by Hallman. Evans was benefited by Fraser's wildness, getting a free base. Childs pulled down Brodie's little fly. And Dunn's boost was taken by Barry. No runs.

Thomas beat out his slow hit that had started Barry. Brodie's roller to Bean. Thomas got to second because he had started to steal. O'Hagan dropped the ball and threw at Thomas. Thomas hit and the Quaker was safe. Jackisch's roller to Bean was Hulsch's finish at second and his own at first. No runs.

Fourth Inning.

Jones' bunt was handled in good shape by Fraser. Lauders' pop up fell to Hulsch, and Childs helped to retire him. Thomas' knock by Lauders' roller was handled rightly by Smith. Evans helped Hallman out. No runs.

Fifth Inning.

Hallman got Smith's hit to first ahead of the Giant. Douglas copped O'Hagan's pop-up foul. Childs aided in putting Evans out. No runs.

Evans got Childs' bounce and threw the Quaker out. Jones collected Fraser's fly. Thomas' knock by Lauders' roller earned him a base. Barry lined the ball into Smith's hands. No runs.

Sixth Inning.

Childs got Evans' roller and sent it to first in time. Brodie carried a base on his liner to centre, but he was caught trying to steal second. Dunn was third, two and a half lengths away.

Hulsch was a strike-out victim. Bean did the right thing with Jackisch's hit and his ground throw. Browne's long drive to centre gave him two bases and scored Douglas. Lauders made a good stop of Hallman's grounder, but allowed Browne to score. Hallman stole second and went to third on Yeager's high throw to catch him. Bean did retire Childs. Two runs.

Seventh Inning.

Jones fanned. Lauders boosted a fly to Browne. Yeager's rap got him to first. So did Smith's. Barry got O'Hagan's fly. No runs.

Lauders threw Fraser out. Yeager got Thomas' bounce to first in time. George got Barry's foul boost, too. No runs.

Eight Inning.

Childs brought four hours more to stay. The Quakers' pitcher was not giving the obligation.

STEEL MAGNATE'S WIFE IN AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Mrs. Robert E. Jennings and Her Two Young Nieces Narrowly Escape Serious Injury.

Mrs. Robert E. Jennings, wife of the President of the Crucible Steel Company, and her two nieces, Misses Marie and Gertrude Jennings, aged seventeen and nineteen years respectively, escaped serious injury in an exciting runaway from the shopping district of Twenty-third street this afternoon.

Their coachman, Peter Porter, was turning the carriage when the pole caught in a passing car.

As the pole snapped the horses became unmanageable and dashed for the crowded sidewalk.

Detectives Bradley and Day, of Police Headquarters, and Sergt. McNaught were standing on the sidewalk, and while Bradley and McNaught caught the horses Day had much trouble in keeping the three women from jumping from the carriage.

The animals were stopped a moment before they were about to leap through a huge plate-glass window of a retail store.

As they were stopped they commenced kicking in their traces. The front of the carriage was beaten in and the flying splinters cut and bruised the limbs of the occupants of the carriage.

When quiet was restored Mrs. Jennings and her nieces were taken to a drug store from where they sent to their home No. 11 Kensington avenue, Jersey City.

McGee was ordered several months ago to pay his wife $5 a week for her maintenance. McGee refused, and was before the Police Commissioner several times, but not paying the obligation.

Large and Happy Crowds Surround Buckingham Palace, While the Streets Are Filled with an Aimless Throng of Coronation Holiday-Makers Drifting Slowly Back and Forth.

LONDON, June 26, 5 P. M. (London time).—Not one of the chief doctors was in attendance on the King at Buckingham Palace. They were not expected back till 6! Shortly after which hour the next bulletin will be issued.

Sir Francis Henry Laking, Physician-in-Ordinary to the King, who has been unremitting in his attendance on His Majesty, left the palace for a short time.

From the foregoing it is evident that the King's condition continues most satisfactory. Large and happy crowds surround the palace.

London, however, is beginning to realize the practical effects of the coronation postponement. The exodus of visitors is taxing the capacity of the railroads and steamboats.

All persons of moderate means who can go away are getting out of the city as quickly as possible. The smaller hotels and boarding-houses are the worst sufferers.

The streets of the city to-day contained a curious mixture of Sunday and holiday crowds. All the banks and the big business houses in the heart of the city were shut up. Most of the retailers are open.

Saloons and restaurants of the cheaper sort did a fairly rushing business. Many of the usual "bean-feaster" class got out early on brakes and coaches, with horns and banners, singing "God Save the King."

But it was an aimless, dis
